

To Whom It May Concern:

I feel that FCC regulations regarding nudity and expletives should not be loosened. It is my opinion that current standards allow screenwriters, directors, and news programmers sufficient liberty to insinuate whatever is necessary for their programming. People desiring entertainment and news with less stringent standards have access to it through other media outlets such as the internet. My 18-month-old child occasionally enjoys watching TV, a desire I am sure will grow as time continues, and I hope to be able to continue to allow him to watch with as little screening as possible.

Thank-you,
Cory Wayment